Dwain, To a very good friend your like my big brother. Im glad your coming back next year. Im going to miss you over the summer. I bet your going to have fun watching Betty's barn. Make sure Sally is ok. Cause if I come back and she's all skinny and grose looking. You will pay. I'll write you and all call you. Write me. Have a great

Photography- the process or art of producing images capable of retaining vivid impressions.

To produce a yearbook that retains the images of the 1979-80 school year, using photography to record happenings, surroundings, and visible and implied emotions of the students, is the goal of the 1980 Camelback.

Here photography does more than show pictures of lunch time activities, pep assemblies, and everyday happenings. Produced are vivid impressions which make up the feeling of the year.

Photography creates a visual diary. It projects the feelings of the subjects through pictures. Some pictures reflect school spirit, academic proficiencies, or leisure time activities.

Photography is an intermediate something between a thought and a thing.

Look at the yearbook as a picture book, because a picture really does tell a thousand words...

Hope you had a lot of fun this summer and ride your horse a lot and think your best friend.

Next year im going to practice a lot. H hope I become as good as Melissa. And hope equatation becomes a lot better to. Miss you love you. Love Chrissy

New developments

New developments in local, state, and national news reflect the changing times. Around Scottsdale, INDIAN BEND PARK was the newest addition to the Scottsdale green belt.

SCOTTSDALE CIVIC PLAZA was a popular place for students to go at night and on weekends. The library, movie theaters, resturants, and rollerskating attracted many to the area. On the national scene, POPE JOHN PAUL II visited the United States as part of his world tour.

Senator TED KENNEDY, announced his candidacy for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination.

The price of GOLD bullion reached an all time high of four hundred dollars an ounce. Problems were found in nearly half of the DC-10 planes in use by airlines.

As of November 1979, the PRICE OF GAS was up to nearly a dollar a gallon. In the summer of 1979, some states saw two hour gasoline lines and in some cases, odd and even gas purchasing days.

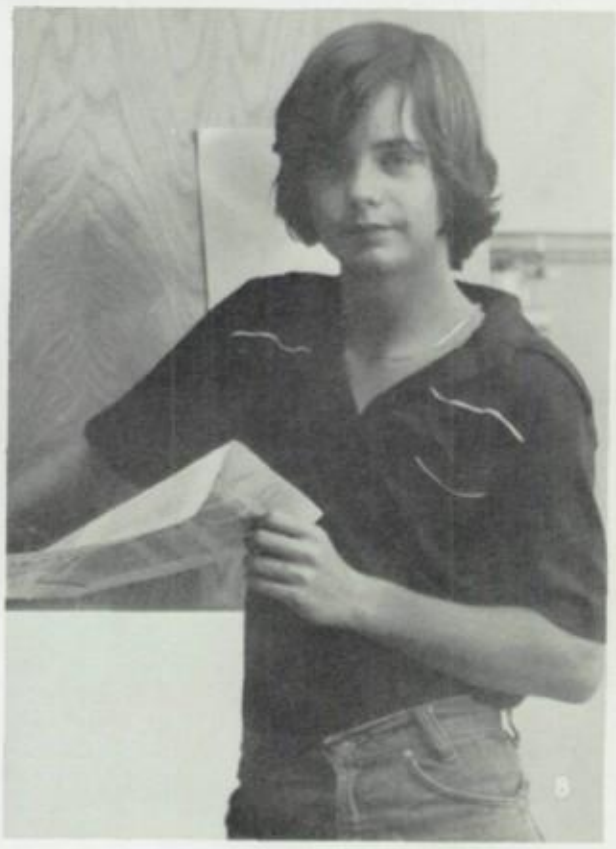
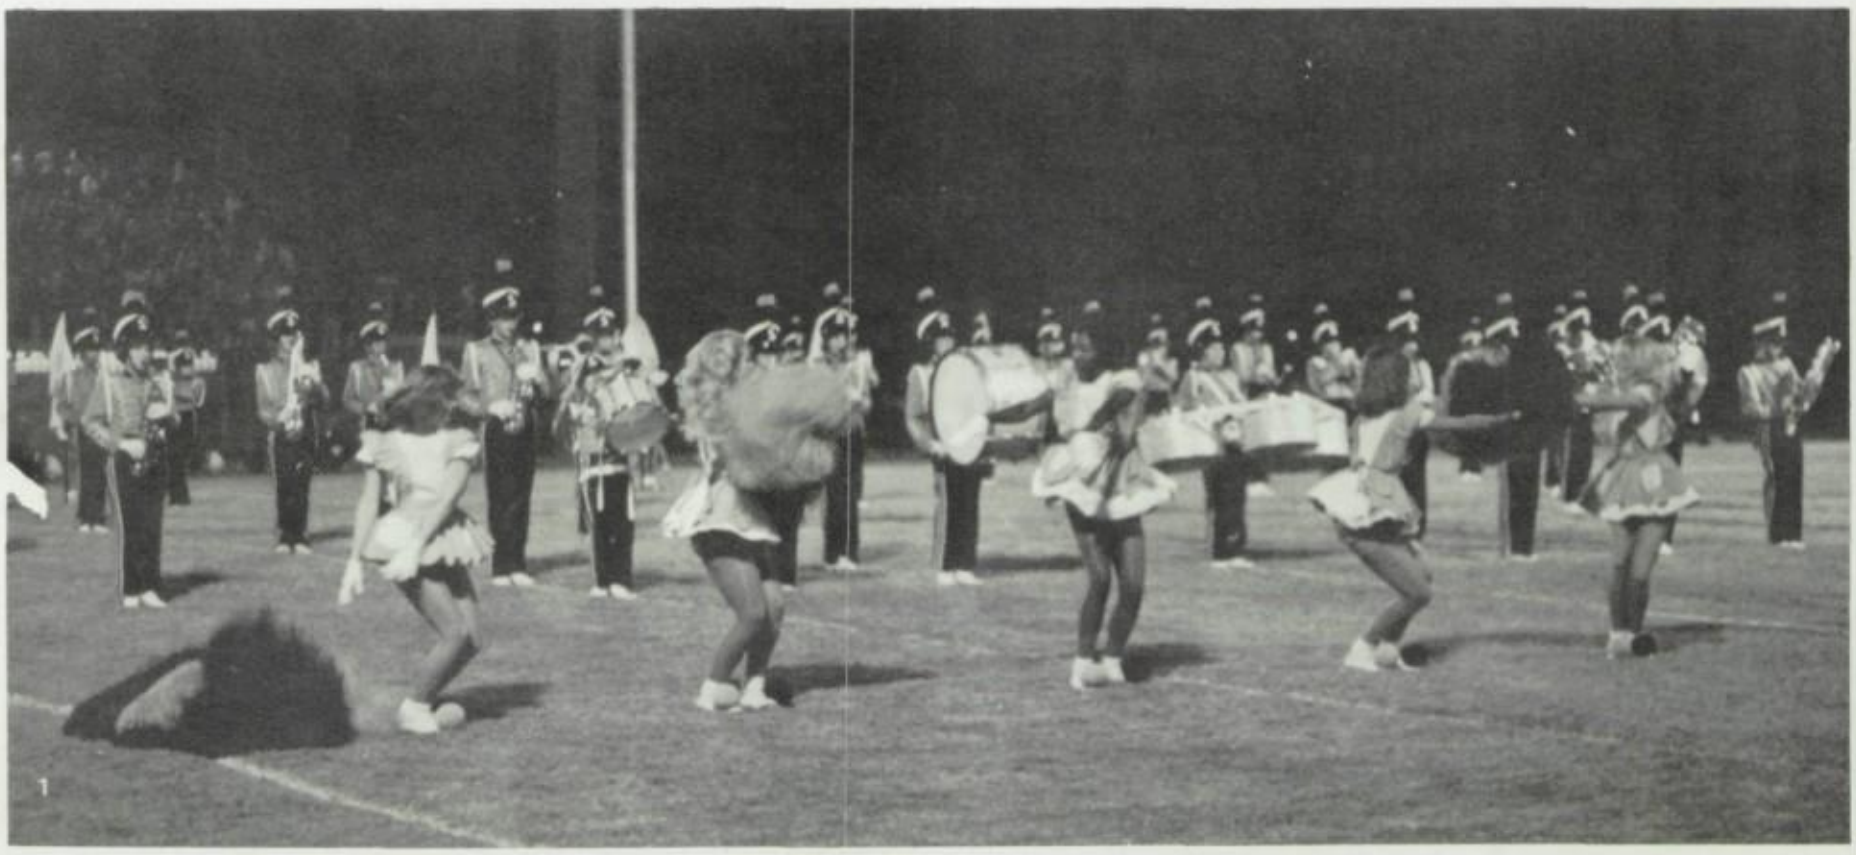
The Beaver as a class is back

For the first time since 1975 there was a newspaper class at SHS. In the past few years interest had fallen off, and the class had become a extracurricular class. But due to the revived interest the Beaver was going strong again with a staff of 23. One eight page paper a month was produced for a cost of $500. The paper consisted of articles about anything that high school students are interested in. Basically the way the paper ran was the students did all the writing, the typed copy went to the typesetter, the set-type was returned to the class, and they did the pasteup. The last step was to send the paper to the Scottsdale Progress to be printed. A problem the Beaver staff faced was walking the fine line of censorship. Any high school paper has perfect right to freedom of the press.



1. Newspaper photographer is Robert Kropp.
2. Jim Stewart and Dana Lindebak check over an addition of last years paper.
3. Discussing ideas for the activity page are Katrina Gonnerman, Patti Busch, and Eric Stevenson.
4. Producing the newspaper layouts are Brian Baumgart and Chrisy Smith.
5. Taking a break after a sports interview are Jeff Rogers, Andy Bagnato, Len Munsil and Becky Goreham.
6. Drawing up ideas is cartoonist Scott Hagen.
7. Typing up the stories are Jim Bumgardner and Alice Reiss.
8. Studying a copy of a newspaper is Mike Gordon.
9. Resting after a good days work is Editor Sherry Szotek.
10. The academics and administration sections were done by Elliot Cherner, Joanne Maresca, Jay McCleary, Steve Mellas and Lisa Boughner.

Pom shows school spirit



1. 1979-80 Pom line in action at a football game.
2. Pom Pon- top row: Ginny Merring, Synetta Jenkins, Vicki Greer; Brenda Schnell, Holly Norwalk, Laura Lang, Gretchen Gossen; Tracy Scholl, co-captains Andrea Rowe and Cindy Flowers; captain Jan Johnson.
3. Pom girls dance to the theme of "Sesame Street".
4. The Pom line performing during a pep assembly.
5. Pom marches with the band during half time at a football game.

Pom worked all summer preparing for the school year. The 11 members of the pom line attended camp at NAU and won several awards. One was the Spirit Megaphone, an award given to the most spirited pom line at camp. Another award was the first place trophy for the dance they brought from home. Summer car washes and going to Park n' Swap helped raise money to buy new uniforms.

The requirements for the pom line were: each girl must make up her own dance, be able to do the splits, and four types of kicks. She also must attend Pom Camp.

Members of the pom line spent close to four hours a day making up and practicing the dances which they performed at pep assemblies and during half-time at athletic events.

Choir presents talent

Learning the art of music, exposure to choral literature and working as a team were the objectives of prep chorus. Singers are the advanced group of prep chorus. All members have had previous experience. Officers are President- Lynnett Chamberlain, ICC-Mike Bielli, Secretary-Gretchen Gossen.

Yearbook thesis is seeing is believing

1. Melissa Hemple, Kelly ORielly, Debbie Chase and Nancy Natelsky produced all the activity section.
2. Working hard on the sports section are JF Kemp, Vaun Liechty, Mark Murray and Liz Drain.
3. The yearbook photographers are David Tumbarello, John Moretti, Valerie Popovich and Tracy Edwards.
4. Discussing layouts with editor Kathy Norris for the Academics section are Elizebeth Hernandez, Julie Green, Rob Moore and Kim Roth.
5. Listening to the instructions of Lisa Bougner the copy editor are Karen Walsmann, Orietta Hernandez, and Sara Burden.
6. Advisor for the yearbook is Ms. C. Lee Goodman.
7. Working in the darkroom is Denise Ladd.
8. Working to get their class sections turned in are Patty Crowley, Georgia Murphy, Jill Martin and Christy Smith.

The yearbook staff was under the direction of Ms. C. Lee Goodman. The Camelback was produced for around $12,000. It is a totally self supporting organization; no money is given to the yearbook by the school. A new enlarger and camera were added for the use of the yearbook class. Students produce the entire book themselves. They are responsible for making layouts and ordering pictures among other things. One question students often ask is, "Why Aren't there more color pictures in the book?". The answer is, because one color picture costs four times as much as one black and white picture to print.

The SHS cheerleaders helped raise spirit and boost school pride. They practiced in the afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00 to make up the cheers which they performed at football and basketball games. They put on pep assemblies and spirit breakfasts. The Cheerleaders attended camp over the summer, and won the spirit; an award given to the most spirited cheer line.

Homecoming Week was full of activities. On Monday there was a wheel barrow race. Tuesday brought a jelly bean blow and Wednesday a shopping cart race. A spoon and string race took place on Thursday and a pep assembly finishing up the week's activites on Friday. The Homecoming theme was Reminiscing. The half-time ceremony consisted of the band playing the song "Get it On", and the classes presenting the floats which they worked on for many hours. The junior class took first place with their revolving float that depicted the three aspects of high school life. The Homecoming Queen candidates were, Sue Durrenberger, Lynn Kardos and Calee Palmer. The candidates for King were Tim Spain, Gary Cooper and Todd Toombs.

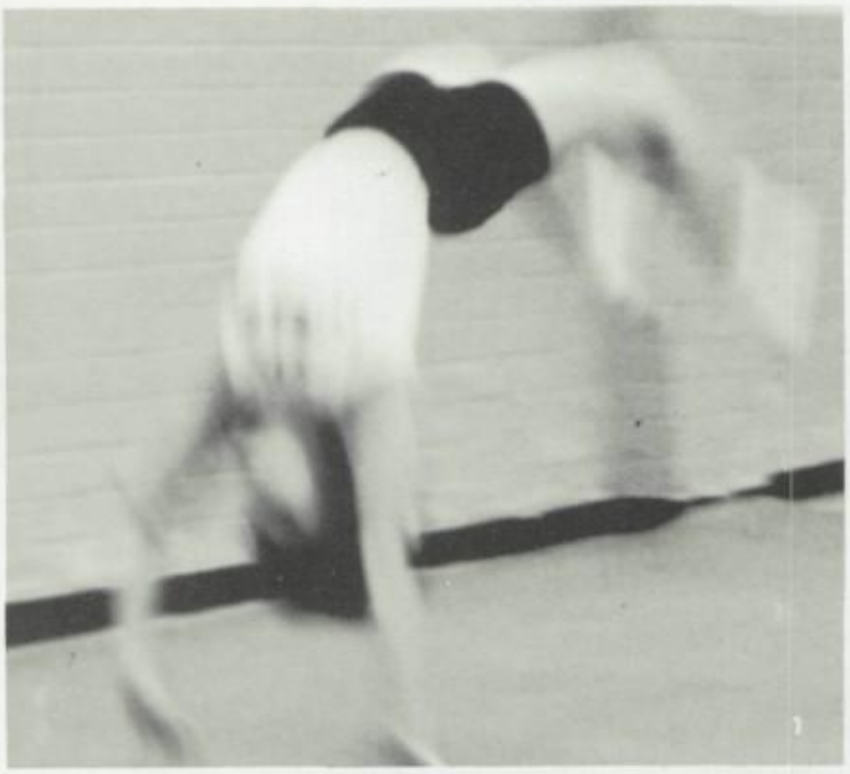
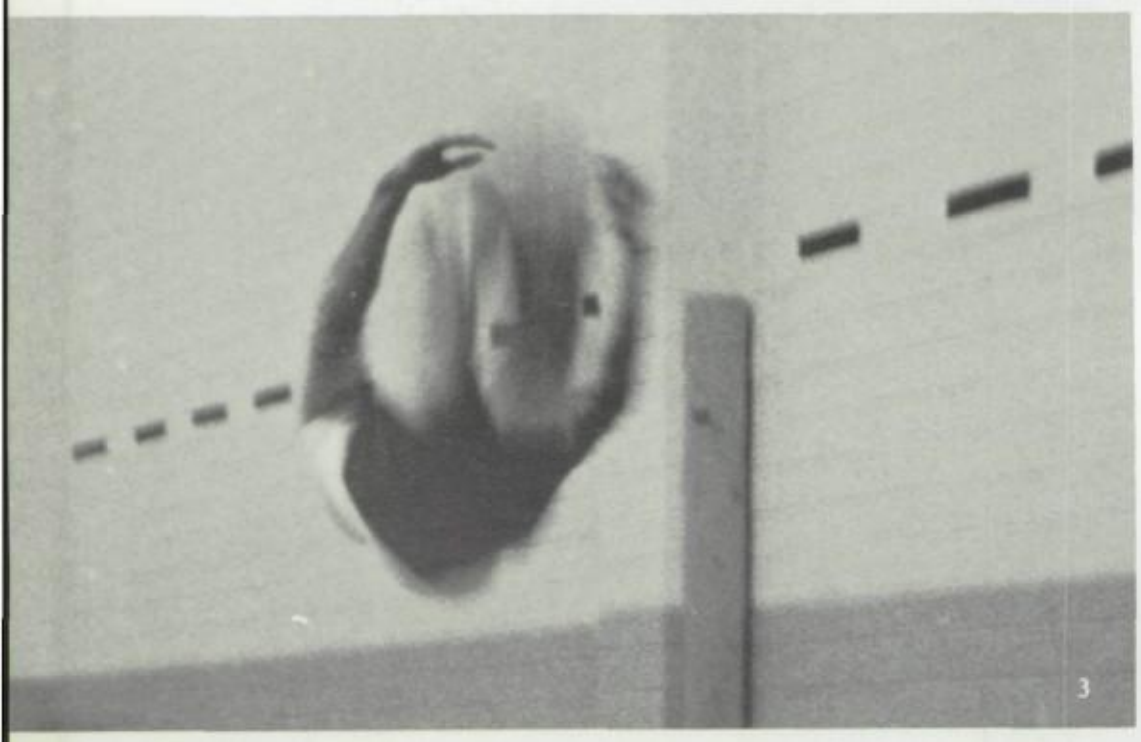
Tumblers, a new tradition





SHS had a new tradition, the SHS tumblers. This was the second year in a row for the tumbling team. The six tumblers practiced every day for about an hour to prepare for the pep assemblies and football games. A new mini tramp was acquired to the tumblers gymnastic equipment. They exhibited good teamwork as they performed routines for the school. The requirement to be a tumbler was a basic gymnastic skill.

1. Patti Marquez shows her skill.
2. Springing into action is Diane Kesteloot.
3. Boug Paulsen flips over gymnastics
4. The SHS tumblers are Laura Hensiek, Patti Marquez, Sandy Strain, Boug Paulsen, and Diane Kesteloot, Amy Moeller.

Student council strives to improve SHS

Student council consisted of six student body officers and three student body board members. The only membership requirement for being a student body officer was to have at least a 2.0 grade average. They met everyday fifth hour to plan the school's activities. The responsibilities of the student body president were to oversee all of the student council activities. The Vice President's duties were to take over in the Presidents absense and to head ICC. Exchanging ideas and mail from other schools was the corresponding secretary's job. Painting signs to let the students know what was happening at school was the publicity coordinators function. Taking minutes at all offical council meetings was the recording secretary's job. The treasurer kept track of the money involved with student council. The student advisory board was the liason between the school board and the school.

November 16 the seniors played the juniors in a Powder-Puff football game. In the first play of the game the seniors intercepted the ball, which lead them on their way to their 28-7 victory over the juniors. Following the game was a Sadie Hawkins Dance. This was part of the Backwards Week tradition of the girls asking the guys for a date. Backwards Week had lunchtime activities which helped to raise some spirit for Friday night's game. A pep assembly on Friday showed what the junior and senior guys could do to raise spirit.

1. Explorer Club: Erin Fehr, Kimberly Quallas, Lee Kline.

The Explorer Club was sponsored by Mr. Ken Lenke. Monday meetings were used by the eleven members to plan trips to the Superstition Mountains, Cross Canyon and the Grand Canyon. The aim of the club was to take exploration trips each month.

Ski Club goes to the Slopes

The Ski Club was sponsored by Mrs. Judy Faucher and Ms. Lisa Gordon. The club was headed by officers Jeff Haveranek, president; Curt Fawley, vice-president; and Jim Halsted, treasurer. The fifty members of the group planned their own trips to Sunrise and Purgatory, Utah. Other plans included a second excursion to Sunrise and perhaps one to Telluride, Colorado.

Pep, spirit and mime clubs are active at SHS

A new club on campus was the Pep Club. The clubs main purpose was to help raise spirit at various school activities. They had car washes to raise money to buy carnations for the football team. The 35 member club learned to cooperate with others from their club activities. Ms. Teresa Kayona was the Pep Club sponsor. The club did not have a set time or day for their meetings. The members of the club all participated in the activities. The officers were Dolly Rumann, Lisa Barton, Holly Huun, and Sue Orlosky.

Performing for the school and the community, and having a concert with Orchesis were some of the activities the Mime Club had planned for the year. Mrs. Virginia Reinken sponsored the club which had seven members. The students learned to express their emotions more freely through the use of mime. Mime Club members were also able to learn another side of the fine arts. The clubs outside activities helped their club by recruitng new members and entertaining people.

Spirit Builders, sponsored by Mrs. Judy Faucher, had 25 members. To help raise money for the club they had pretzel and balloon sales. Spirit Builders painted signs and decorated the stands for the football games. The club officers were Margaret Lopez, president, Anne Anderson, vice president, Ann Wifler, treasurer, and Jeannine Brinkman, secretary.

Spirit Builders contributed to the Club members education by giving them the feeling that they have accomplished something good for the school.

ACTION, formerly the Spanish Club, was sponsored by Mrs. Joyce Sims. The club had candy sales and car washes to help finance club dinners and picnics. The membership requirement for ACTION was an interest in participating in the club, and its activities. They had special cultural activities and presentations at their meetings which helped to enhance interest in other countries. Action members learned and experienced traditions of other cultures. The club had 15 members.

Mr. Raymond Soltero sponsored the Spanish Honor Society. The Club had two very successful candy sales. The money earned financed outings, dinners and aid for needy family at Christmas time. To be eligible for membership and selection, a student must have earned at least three semesters of A's in Spanish. The Club had 14 members.

The combined membership of the jazz and orchestra numbered 37. The fine arts students contributed a greater awareness of music on campus. The jazz class rehearsed everyday seventh hour for their concerts. The orchestra was on a totaly voluntary basis. The group practiced everyday after school playing for the fine arts productions was the orchestras main purpose. "The jazz class and orchestra will remain good as long as the students are willing to participate." said Mr. Stanley, musical director.

Go Beavers Go!

The varsity football team started their season with a loss to Chaparral 30-6. The second football game against Saguaro was a victory for the Beavers, with a score of 13-10. The Beaver offense didn't differ from that used in past years, however, more pass plays were used. Even though the Beavers were small in size it didn't stop them from having a winning season. The outstanding varsity football players were Gary Cooper, Randy Hayes, Don Kesteloot, Todd Toombs, and Jon Tortoriello.

JV Football makes their mark

The JV Football team played well under the instruction of coaches Wayne Bailey and Bill West. JV's midseason record was 3-2. Running a new multiple offense with five backfield sets and a 4-4-3 defense they managed to upset their toughest opponent, McClintock, with a score of 40-21.

Freshman teams tackle tough season

Freshman A football team was coached by Jerry Haley and Gary Levan. Thirty people tried out for the team and thirty were chosen. Doug Lane and Dino Secchiari were the quarterbacks. The freshman A team used a 4-4-3 defense more than they have in the past. Their season record was 1-4-1.

The Freshman B football team had a tough season. Under the coaching of Mr. Jack Maraschiello and Mr. Dave Tellef, the 22 player team finished the season with a 3-4-2 record. The team's offense was the same as in past years. However, the defense changed to a 4-4 formation from the 5-2 which they had been usina.

The cross country team was coached by Mr. Gene Mahalak, and Mr. Rocky Pool, who was a student teacher from ASU. The team started with five runners and was built up by the end of the year to 22 runners. According to Coach Mahalak the teams strengths were, "The girls were hard workers, good runners, and they were more improved than in the past years." Mr. Mahalak's comment on the boys was, "They are young. We have only one senior, the rest are sophomores and freshmen. Our two main runners were John White and Jim Habecker."

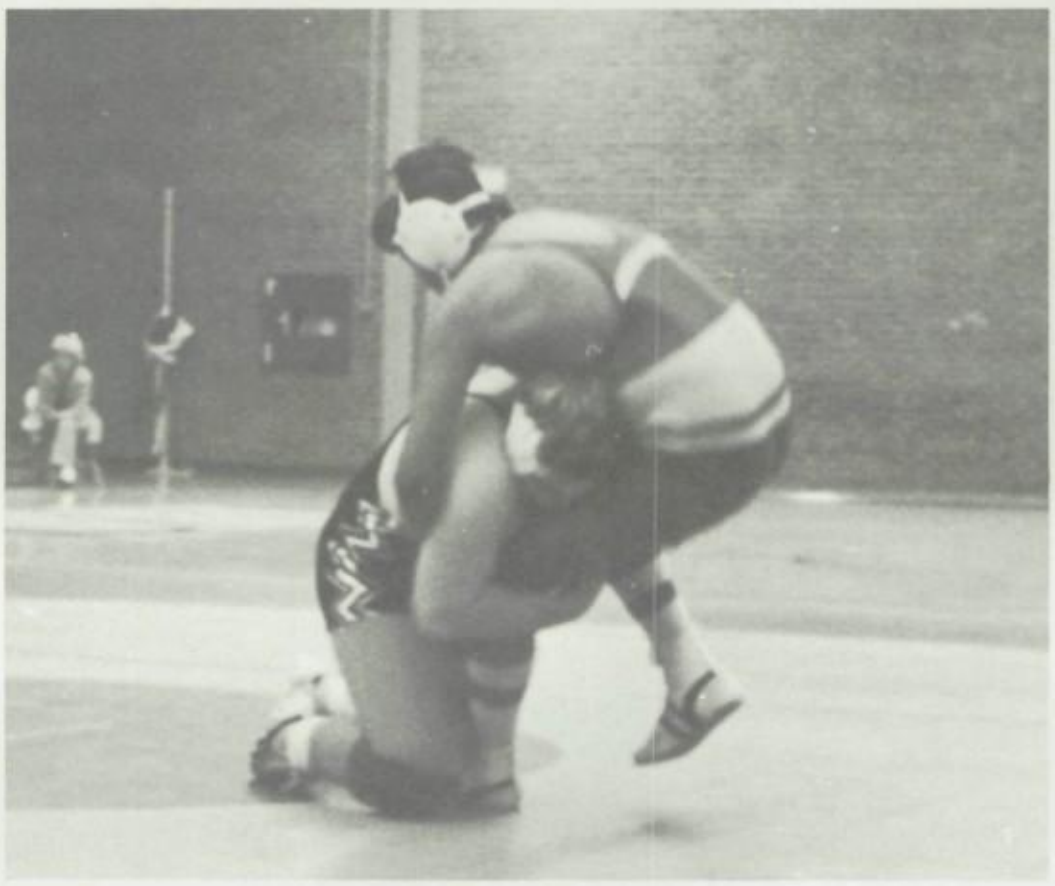
TAKEDOWN



Mr. Jerry Spaulding coached the SHS wrestling team for the ninth consecutive year. The wrestling team lifted weights throughout the summer and fall to prepare for the season. The season lasted November through January. "Requirements for the wrestling team are tremendous dedication and will power. Also you have to be physically tough to be successful." said Coach Spaulding. The teams strong points were three good seniors, Adam McMillan, Mark Zinn, and Matt Zinn on varsity. The outstanding freshmen wrestlers were Tom Spaulding, Richard Snelling, and Pat Holmes. Wrestling contributed to the team members education with scholarship opportunities for college.

The Varsity Softball team was coached by Mr. Tacy Lewis. The team had good overall batting strength, and good pitching by junior Erin Putnam. There were 10 returning players from last season. 30 people tried out for the softball team, and 12 were chosen. Having a new infield differed the team's offense from last years.

JV Softball works toward tomorrow

The J.V. Softball team was coached by Catherine Tichar. For the JV team 16 members were chosen and 11 remained throughout the season. The team had a group of very talented Softball players among which was Jeanne Stout who helped tremendously with her pitching ability. All the girls contributed to a very successful and winning season. According to Coach Tichar, "The team weakness would be the inability to think during certain situations. This weakness improved somewhat during the season."

The Varsity Basketball team had a disappointing season. "The team had a good attitude toward basketball, and were hard workers. However they seemed to lack experience, Gary Cooper and Bruce Suppes were the only seniors," said coach John Overstreet. Sophomore Neil Corbin was moved up from the JV team after the season started. The offense differed from past years because the team played without a center. The teams defense differed because they played without a zone.

JV shows their strength

The JV Basketball team had a good season. The team had 14 members, 33 people tried out for the team. The teams weaknesses were lack of speed and individual player size. The offense differed from past years because they were shooting more from the outside. They used a zone defense most of the time. Mr. Bob Tellef was the JV basketball teams coach.

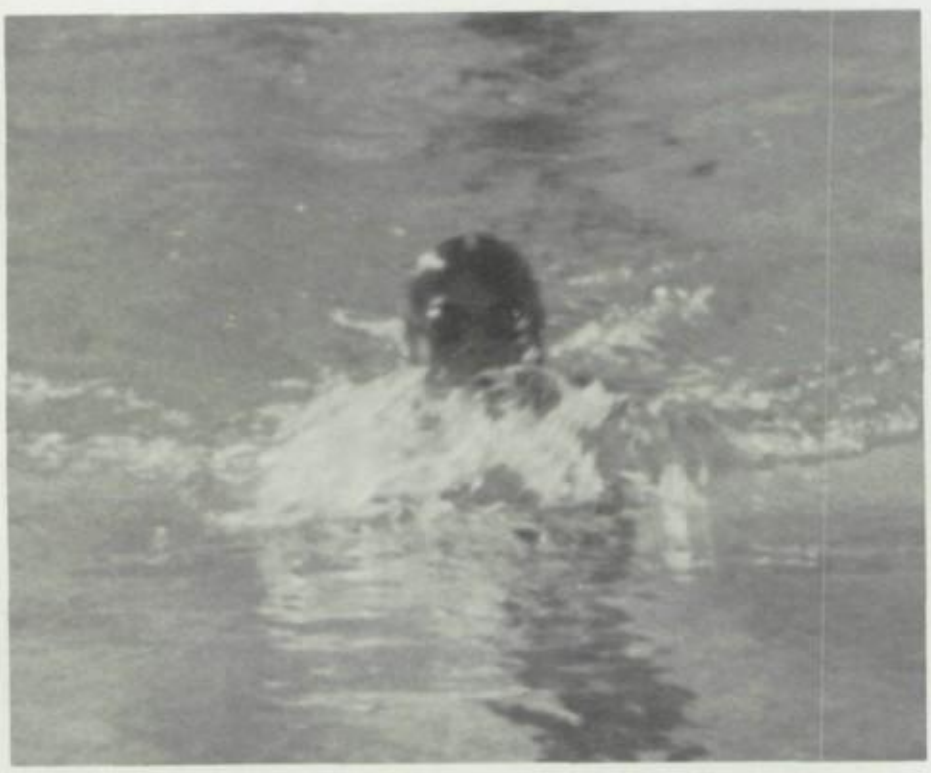
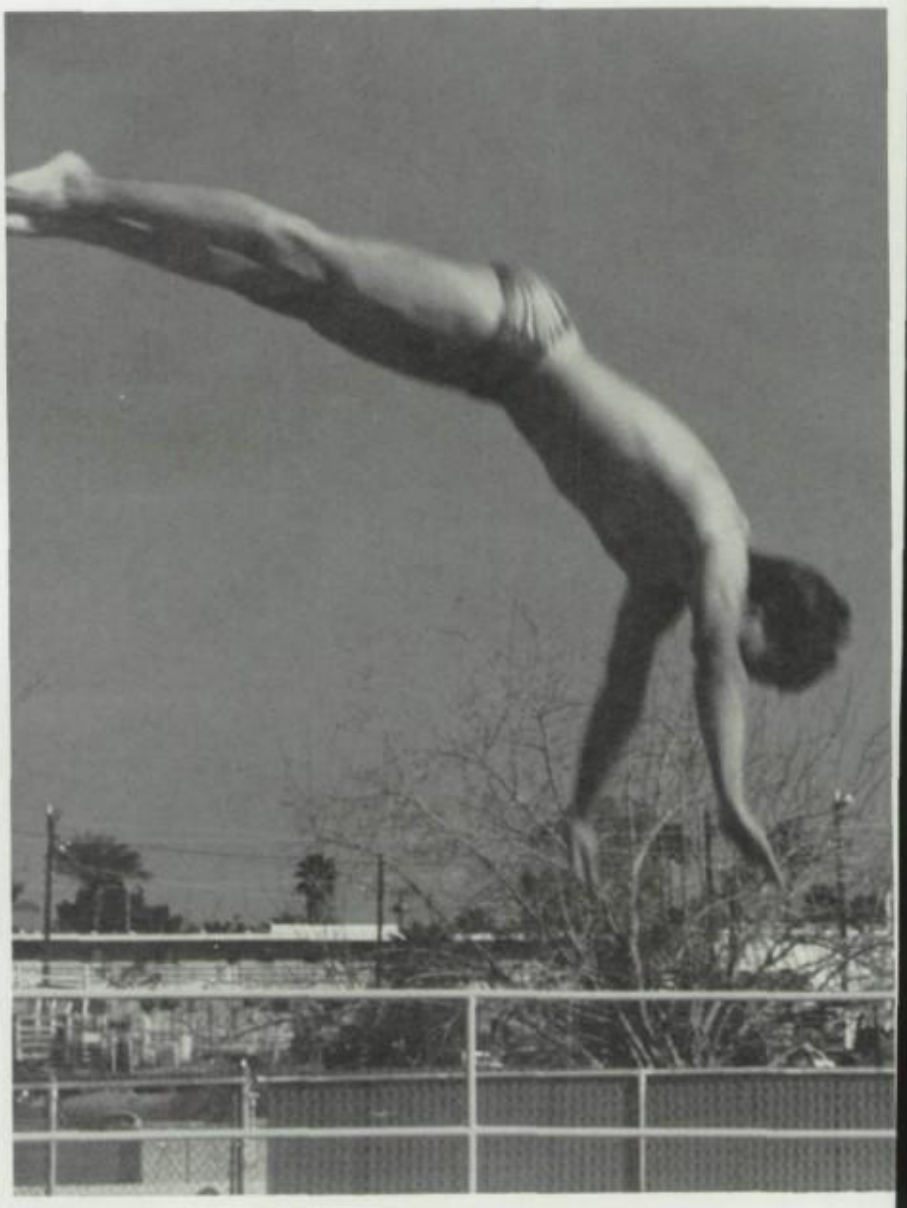
Boys swim through the year.





Mr. Don Wagner coached the boys swimming team. At the beginning of the season it was anticipated that at least five swimmers were going to participate in the state meet. For the year, Mr. Wagner has hopes of the team placing in the top five in state. The teams strengths were top performances by John Heidke, Bob Stenz, Bill Jensen, Tom Jenkins, Phil Baker, Paul Heubner, and Brian George. They also had some returning lettermen. The only weaknesses were the fact they had a small team. This hurt the team as a whole in dual meets.

The girls basketball coaches were Ms. Laura Cooper and Ms. Gail Wilburn. More girls were participating in basketball with the addition of the freshman squad last year. "Girls basketball seems to be growing each year. We received better coverage in the paper." said Ms. Cooper. The outstanding varsity players were Meg Connors, senior; Carolyn Kalb, sophomore; Kathy King, junior; Erin Rutnam, junior; and Marcy Sanchez, senior. Both squads had veterans returning which made them look forward to a strong season.

Mr. Pat Hennessy coached the boys varsity and JV tennis teams. On the varsity tennis team there were four returning team members, two returned for the JV team. The tennis team had good depth, but unfortunately had lack of tournament experience. 20 boys tried out for the team and 15 were chosen. At the beginning of the season they looked forward to a winning season.

1. Varsity Tennis: Jamie Davidson, Joe Woodley, Mike Socker, Scott Kidner, Matt Mansell.
2. Scott Kidner leaps for the ball.

Girl Netters

The girls varsity and JV tennis teams had a combined team membership of 17. Mrs. Dorothy Fisher coached both of the teams. Returning to the tennis team were, Karen Butler, Lisa Cornelius, Kira Hellinghausen, Val Huffman, Jamie Patrick, Gini Sater, Cindy Schultz, Ruth Ann Showalter. The girls schedule was 15 matches, divisionals, and hopes to go to state. Returning letterman was one of the teams strengths. Lack of tournament experience was a weakness for both the varsity and JV teams.

Track: on the run

Both the Boy's and Girl's track teams were coached by Jerry Haley, Ann Ream, Mike Schmidt, and Steve Walsh. The team had a combined team membership of 62. No cuts were made for the team. The number of returning team members was 38. The teams didn't have much team strength due to the small number of people to try out for the track team. However the team had individual strength; Paul Cummings, shot put, and Scott Kidner hurdles. Also there were some returning lettermen to the track team.

Varsity hitting much improved

Mr. Jack Maraschiello coached the 18 members varsity baseball team. There were six returning team members from last year. Hitting defense was a team strength. One of the team's weaknesses was a lack of pitching depth. The offense differed from past years because the team's hitting was much improved. The team practices everyday after school to prepare them for their games. Baseball games were at 4:00 on Tuesdays and Fridays. The team had 18 scheduled games, and at the beginning of the season were expected to do very well.

The Freshmen baseball team was coached by Mr. Bob McKee. Pitching, hitting and infield defense were the teams strengths. The outfield represented a weakness to the freshmen baseball team. The team had 21 people try out, and seventeen were chosen. The class of '83 baseball players showed great promise for the varsity team.

The Freshmen Baseball players were Tom Argivopoulos, Doug Blouin, Marty Calvert, Dwayne Clements, Craig Dunn, Don Eccles, Ben Foley, Pete Kaatz, Lance Laack, Doug Lane, Sam McAllen, Scott Reed, Dana Schell, and Pat Smith.

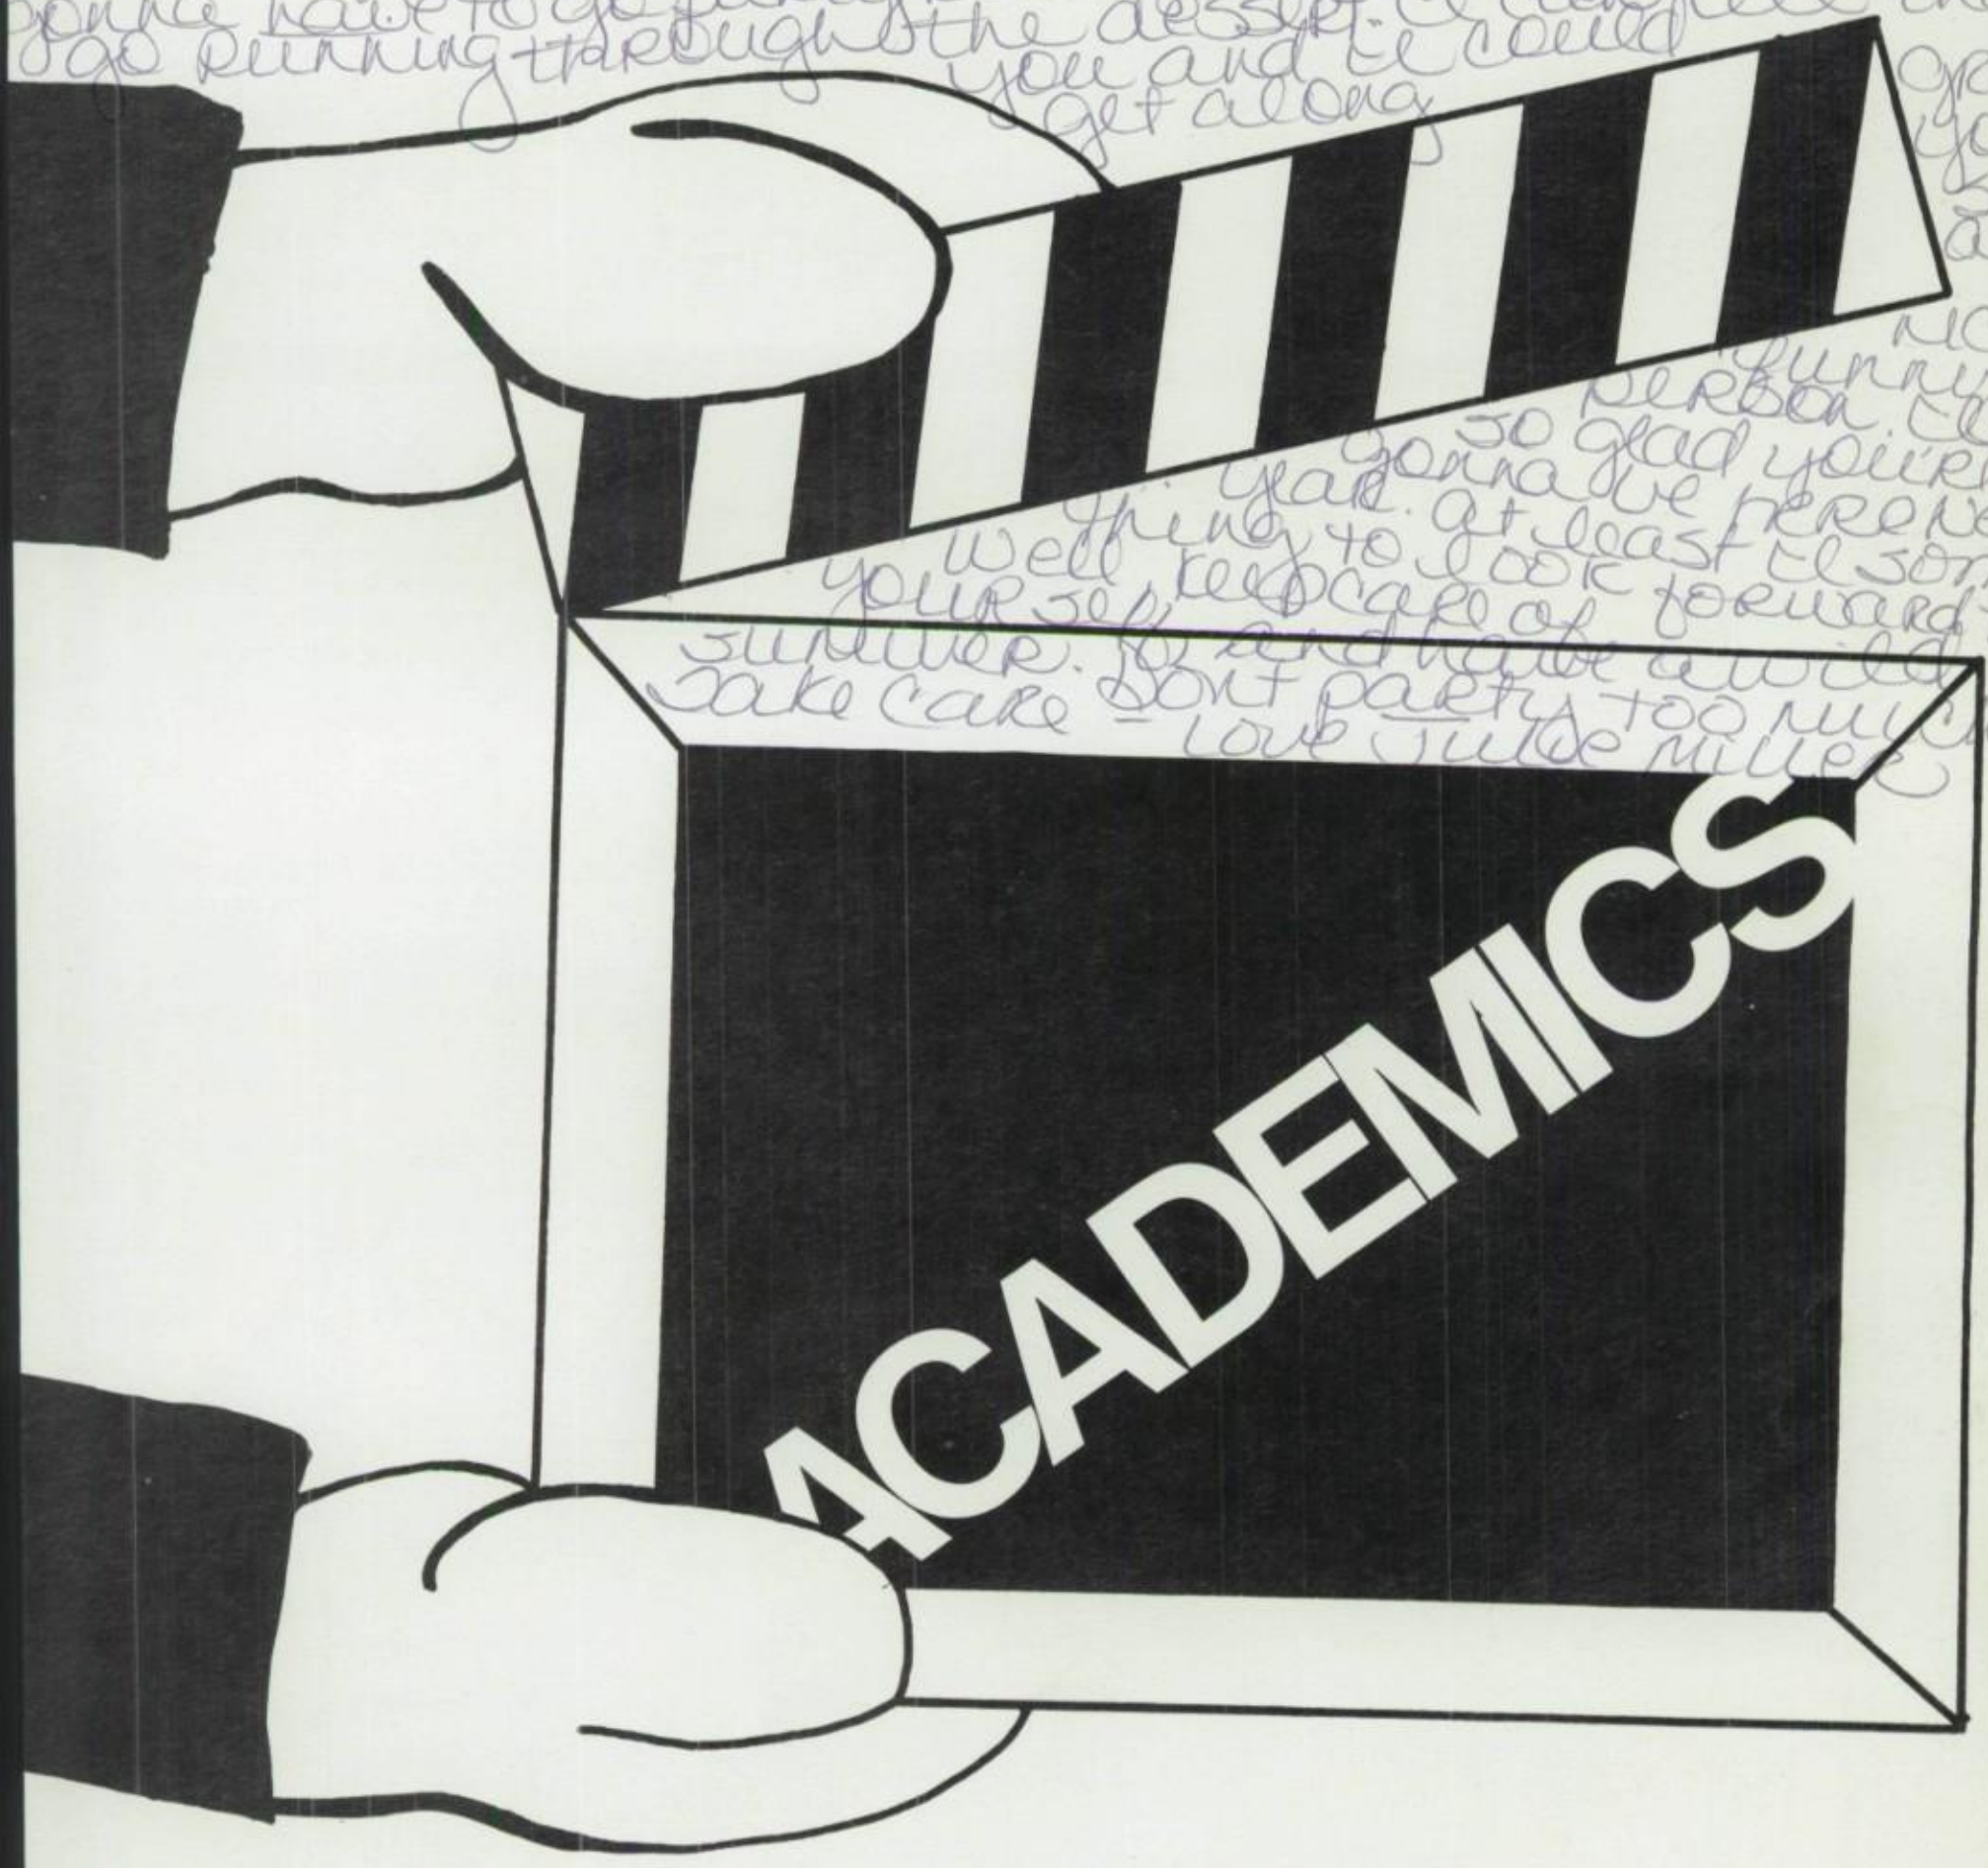
D.J.,

Well, this year is finally over! I can't believe it, and I've only been here 4 months. I'm so sorry we didn't get to know each other better, but we'll make up for that next year (in a big way). We're gonna have to go party next year! Maybe we can go running through the desert. I can tell that you and I could get along great. You're such a nice person. I'm so glad you're gonna be here next year. At least I'll something to look forward to. Well, keep care of yourself and have a good summer. Don't party too much. Take care - Love Jude Miller



SHS welcomes new principals

1. Vice principal- Mr. Tom Miller.
2. Vice principal- Dr. Ed Segrave.
3. Principal- Mrs. Evelyn Caskey.

Q.- How do you feel about the vandalism situation at school?

A.- It is bad, but our school is not as bad as some others. It is disheartening, it is an unnecessary waste of tax money. Last year vandalism cost the school $11,000 in repairs. This is money that the school could have used to offer another course.

Q.- Was it hard getting the job as principal being a woman?

A.- Yes, it was more difficult competing against men, mainly because there were so many more men than women. But by being a woman, yes, it did take me longer to get the job.

Q.- How is inflation affecting the school?

A.- Well, we don't get as many supplies because we don't have as much supply money. School fees have gone up which means changed teaching, less demonstrations and such.

Q.- What changes have you seen over the last twenty years?

A.- The kids are more serious about school. The times are different as compared to the times in the sixties where the kids questioned authority, experimented with drugs and questioned how drugs really were bad.

Q.- Do you have many discipline problems here at Scottsdale?

A.- I feel the students are all pretty good, mostly because of the good atmosphere on campus. Compared to other schools we are well-behaved because of our approach to discipline problems which is an iron hand and a velvet glove.

Q.- What do you think of using physical force and punishment in a classroom?

A.- You don't need physical force to keep a good atmosphere in a classroom. How good a class is just depends on how good the teacher is.

Q.- Do you like coming into an almost new administration?

A.- Yes, change is good. You learn new things and most of all you don't need to become set in your old habits. It is good for the school as well as the individual administrator.

Q.- How do you feel about the smoking situation on campus?

A.- How I feel and what I do are two different things. School is really the only place that does anything about it. Enforcing the rule is just something we have to do.

Q.- Where did you work before you came here?

A.- Coronado High School, from the fall of 1973 to the present.

Q.- What are some of your hobbies?

A.- I enjoy camping and just going out with the family. I also have been raising bulldogs for the past few years and own two of my own.

Q.- What do you do to relax after a hard day of working?

A.- Oh, I like to ride my motorcycle in the desert. I've been riding motorcycles ever since I was sixteen.

Special education expands

Loloma school offered a program in school, for all five Scottsdale High schools. Some of the classes that were offered at Loloma were, Job Preparation, Math, and pre-vocational exploration. However, the SHS LRC offered a program just for Scottsdale High students who had special learning difficulties. 245 students were involved in these programs. This was an increase in special education from past years.

SHS aquired a new English office in 1979. The original plans for the office were designed seven years ago by English teacher Ed Sandling. The south end of the office is a resource center large enough to accommodate five English classes, a mini library, and two conference rooms. In the middle of the office is the English teachers lounge, an equipment room and a graphics room. The north end of the office is a sound room and a control room. These rooms are used for the TV studio. Included in the TV studio is an observation booth where students can sit and watch what is being filmed in the studio.

Q. Which English classes are required subjects?

A. English I, II, and III are required subjects. There are three levels of each, which are A, B, and C. College Comp is recommended.

Q. Which are elective subjects?

A. English 4A, College Comp, speech, mythology, Bible Literature, devolpmental reading, and directed reading.

Q. What is the average enrollment in the English classes?

A. Regular class size is 25-27. We would like the classes to be smaller.

Q. Is this an increase or decrease from past years?

A. Due to declining enrollment in the school, this is a decrease.

Q. Do you have any new teaching aid aids or equipment?

A. Yes the new English office is our newest teaching aid. It is full of new equipment.

Q. What subjects do you teach?

A. Algebra I, Algebra II, and Math.

Q. What is the average enrollment of these classes?

A. 28.

Q. Is this an increase or a decrease from the past years?

A. Unfortunetly there is a decrease in Algebra A. We like to maintain larger A classes in order to sustain our A track. The Algebra II classes are much too large.

Q. Are there any plans for new teaching aids or equipment?

A. We now have the game Mastermind which balances the scales for teaching equations. Also a new transit was aquired for the trigonometry classes.

Q. Are there any plans for new and different classes in the math department?

A. Yes, Consumer Math is a class designed to teach math to aid in the survival of juniors and seniors.

Q. How many years have you been here at SHS?
A. 28 Years.
Q. What science courses do you teach?
A. Chemistry I, Chemistry II which is about 2/3 inorganic chemistry and 1/3 organic chemistry.
Q. Are there any new courses being offered?
A. It is hard to offer new courses with a dwindling population. The only school offering a new science course is Chaparral, because they have a population on the increase.
Q. Has the science department gotten any new equipment?
A. We have gotten a new pH meter. This is an extremely frugal department, we do not just order equipment because another school has it. In most cases we have the right equipment for the things we want to do.
Q. Are students still interested in science?
A. Yes, because these are technological times. They are not encouraged or pushed like they used to be. I cannot cajole them or force them to do better work like I used to .
Q. Is there anything you would like to say in memory of Mr. Gardner?
A. He was an outstanding leader. He had tremendous rapport with the students. He was a very good and close friend of mine, partly because we were in the faculty shows together. He was also a good actor.

Fine arts and visual arts triumph on

Mr. Norman Stanley was the fine arts department chairman. He directed the marching and concert bands and the jazz group. Ms. Sharon Turner taught theater arts, drama I, advanced drama, and stagecraft. Stagecraft was the technical aspect of drama. A new $78,000 computerized dimmer board was added to the fine arts department for use in the auditorium.

Two sections of dance were offered sixth and seventh hour by Ms. Norma Barer. The dance room along with the drama room had been renovated to be a complete facilty.

Mr. Sid Travis and first year teacher Dan Doolan taught visual arts. The visual arts classes offered approximately 16 disciplines including; ceramics, jewelry, drawing and painting. Mr. Stanley said, "Everyone is welcome in the fine art building, to share all of the experiences which are generated there."

Q. What or who inspired you to become a teacher?

A. Two teachers inspired me to become a teacher. A Spanish teacher in high school and a college history teacher. I've really wanted to teach since I was 14.

Q. What do you consider your best quality?

A. I think my best quality is concern about education. I like to see it function well. I am able to solve and deal with problems. My favorite saying is "to the stars with difficulties"

Q. What inspiring words do you have to give to the students of SHS?

A. Try to be yourself as much as possible, keeping in mind you have to live with other people. Don't be afraid to ask questions, about anything. But whatever happens just have a happy.

The Home Economics department offered a variety of subjects. Foods, clothing, human relations, child development, and interior design were some of these elective classes. The classes had field trips and guest speakers to add to class activities. "The Home Ec department is growing. We've had to add a new part time teacher, Ms. Caren Robinson," said teacher Lois Edwards. A new pilot program was offered, foods and hospitality, which was taught by Mrs. Judy Touby.

Some of the Industrial Arts classes offered were metals, woods, auto theory, mechanical drawing, and power tech. These courses gave students the chance to demonstrate their creativity and skills. Students learned to work with machines and various other resources. The Industrial Arts classes were helpful for a future in a related occupation.

MIDSUMMER MADNESS

Titania, Oberon, Faeries all!
Fill the night with wonder,
Heed my frantic call!

When all the world's achase
With fantasies unfound,
I still dream of faerie For faries still abound.

Oh, Puck, you demon of the glen,
Who spies o'er the wood
And paints the dreams of men.

Call all your able folk
From o'er the field and town,
And plant seeds of wonder
Through my dreams dark gown.

Let me scent the spice of night
And through the cloudless skyes
Follow the moon-moth's flight.

Help me dream of midsummer,
Puck,
For faithfully I echo thee,
And say, "Oh Lord!
What fools these mortals be!"

Diane Roberts

SEE YOU IN 85!

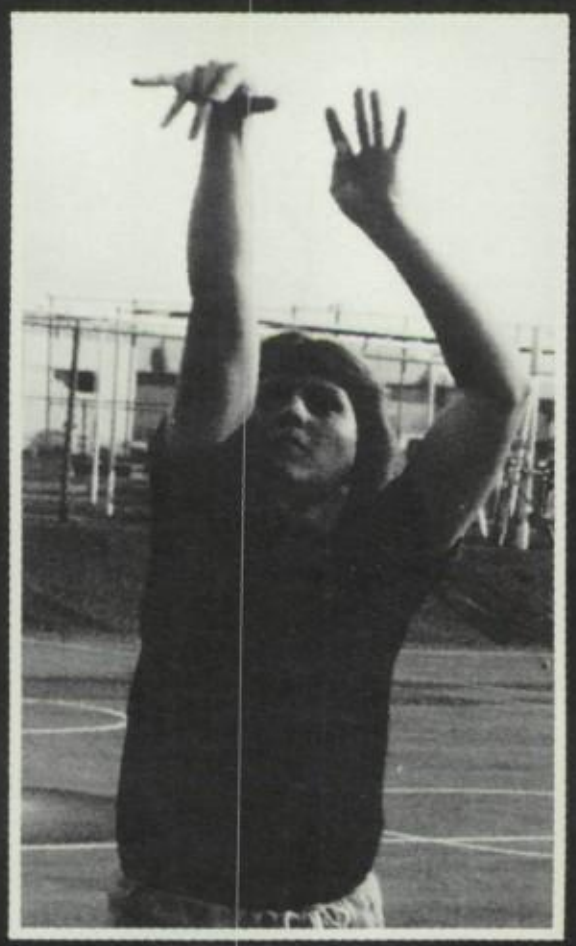
1980 Camelback staff honor the following students for outstanding achievements during the 79-80 school year.

In a school the size of SHS many students distinguish themselves in vast variety of areas. From academics through athletics to participation in the fine arts and student leadership. These SHS students deserve special recognition. The Camelback staff presents the 1980 Honors section.

Meg Connors

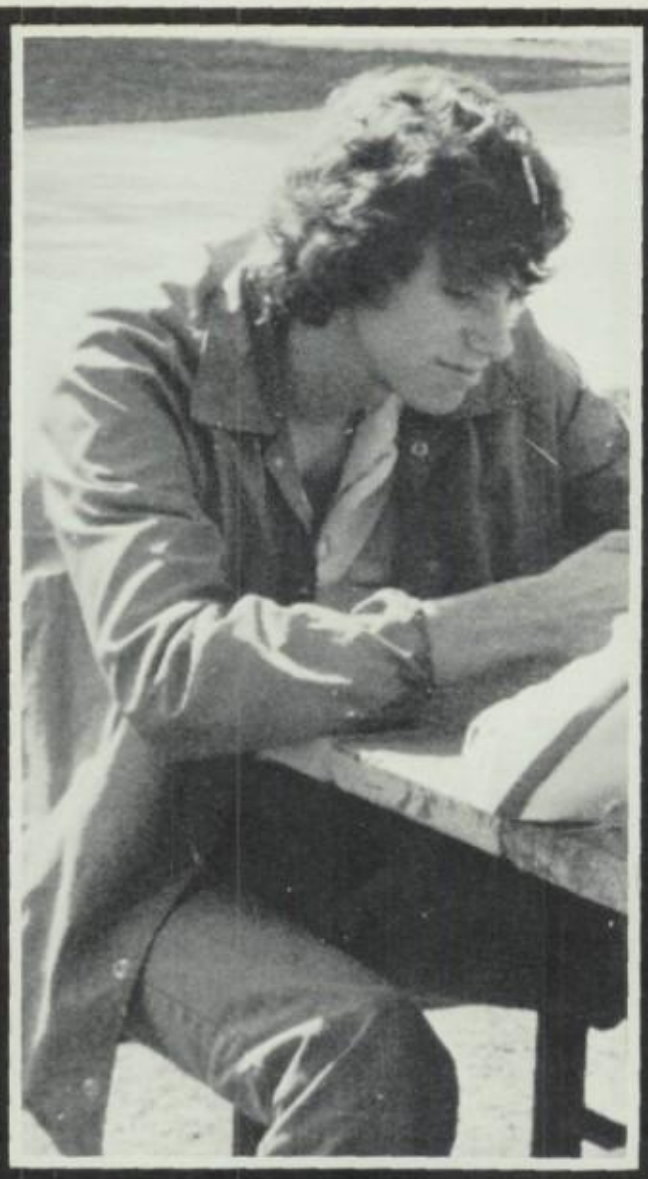


Meg Connors was voted Camelback Student of the Year. Throughout her years at SHS Meg was involved with JV Volleyball; Varsity Softball; Varsity Volleyball; Varsity Basketball; All City Softball; All-City Basketball; and Key Club.

Kathy Norris

Yearbook Editor Kathy Norris was a candidate for the Camelback Student on the Year. Her plans for the future were to attend the ASU College of Business and major in management. Aside from her school activities Kathy was involved with her work at Palo Alto Preschool, where she was employed for a year and a half. "My aim is to be self supportive. Maybe manage my own small business. But raising a family is also important to me.", said Kathy.

Bruce Larsen



Bruce Larson was nominated for the Camelback Student of the Year. Bruce was involved with the Band, and was in Jazz and the National Honor Society. Arizona State University is where Bruce planned to go to school. His interests included music and literature. When asked what Bruce wanted to be when he grew up, he remarked, "I don't plan to."

Gary Cooper

Calee Palmer

Homecoming was a tradition at SHS which was carried out with the crowning of Calee Palmer and Gary Cooper as the Homecoming Royalty. The candidates were chosen by a committee in Student Council and the vote was taken by the student body. The attendents for the classes were voted on by the members of each class. Homecoming is the time of year when SHS welcomes back the school's alumnae.

Durrenberger

Courts was the counterpart to Homecoming for basketball season. The candidates were chosen in the same way as the Homecoming candidates were. A committee in Student Council chose them, and the students voted for them. Doug Paulsen and Susan Durrenberger were voted to the honor of 1980 Courts King and Queen. The theme for Courts was simply Courts '80.

The editors of the 1980 CAMELBACK wish to thank the yearbook staff for their help and participation in producing this year's yearbook. The staff members found out very quickly that working on the yearbook required more time than one fifty-minute class period. Working between class time, at lunch, after school and evenings, to complete our pages by deadline, was not uncommon. Without the participation of the staff, THE CAMELBACK would be non-existent.

Thank you,

Kahty Norris Teresa Bertocchi
